

Official Newsletter of ICBND COMMUNITY BANKER

Derek B. Williams is chairman-elect of ICBA. President and CEO of Century Bank & Trust in Milledgeville, GA., Williams has served ICBA and the community banking industry for many years. He is a member of the ICBA Executive Committee and board of directors and is chairman of the Federal Delegate Board. He is a member of ICBA's Policy Development and Nominating committees. He also serves as Executive Committee liaison to the Bank Operations and Payments Committee. He is chairman of the ICBA Securities board and serves on the Consolidated Holdings and Services Network board.

Stephen L. Stenehjelm, Chairman and CEO of First International Bank & Trust (FIBT), is the recipient of the 2022 Distinguished Community Banker Award. The award was presented to him during the 54th Annual Independent Community Banks of North Dakota (ICBND) Convention & Exposition. The three-day event was held August 8-10, at the Bismarck Hotel and Conference Center, in Bismarck, and was attended by over 200 bank and associate members.

United Way Backpack Program

This is another great year of helping United Way with packing backpacks full of food. These packs were distributed to local families in need.

ROARING INTO THE FUTURE

KX News stopped by the Annual Convention to interview Jessie Pfaff, Vice President of ICBND and Jim Reber President and CEO of ICBA Securities.

BISMARCK, N.D. — This week is the ICBND 54th Annual Convention. The convention will last Monday through Wednesday.

Jessie Pfaff, who is the vice president for the ICBND says this is a chance for community bankers and associate members vendors across the nation to get together.

"It's just a time to reconnect with each other and to celebrate everything they have accomplished last year" "

Pfaff says conventions such as this one is extremely important to have in the state.

"North Dakota in general is a tight knit rural community and community banks across our state are what provide the funding for a lot of main street, and we are excited about bringing them together."

According to Pfaff, ICBND is the only association in the state of North Dakota that excessively represents Community Banks.

The convention always has a theme and for this years theme it's the roaring 20's.

"We figured it's the 20's. We are roaring forward and everything that banks have had to overcome with their customers and COVID the last couple of years," said Pfaff. "They keep charging forward into the future."

And the big topic on everyone's mind is inflation.

"It's front and center. The man on the street and the lady on the street mind's these days is on how much things are costing," said Reber. "When they go to the grocery store, when they go buy clothes. When they fill up their gas tank."

As far as what interest rates could do in the next six months, Jim Reber, President and CEO of ICBA Securities, says it's impossible to predict.

Despite not being able to predict how long the inflation will last, Reber says community banks are built to benefit from rising rates.

"If this is a long term scenario, where rates are higher than normal, community banks should do just fine."

They say no matter what the economy looks like... they will continue to reach out and help their neighbors from rural to cities here in North Dakota.

ROARING INTO THE FUTURE

ND independent banks 'doing well'

Prairie Public Broadcasting | By Dave Thompson

A past president of the North Dakota Independent Community Banks said banks in North Dakota are in very good shape.

"They're strong, well-run, well-capitalized," said David Mason of First International Bank and Trust in Bismarck. "We've been fortunate for a highly supportive community base in North Dakota." Mason said North Dakotans like doing business with other North Dakotans.

"That's where the community bank model really thrives for us," Mason said.

Mason also said the biggest issue facing banks this year is inflation, and continued efforts by the Federal Reserve to tamp down inflation through raising interest rates.

"Increasing or decreasing isn't as big of a deal as how fast they change," Mason said. "And we've seen a dramatically fast-paced move by the Fed in increasing rates this time around. And that just changes the dynamic."

Mason said it takes a little bit of a different management style, to help customers deal with the rates. Meanwhile, ag lenders are reporting a more positive outlook in farm country. A banker from southeast North Dakota said farmers are doing very well this year, compared with the past few years.

"The crops that got put in look very good," said Darwin Bitz of Heartland State Bank of Edgeley and Kulm. "The prices are excellent, and even on the livestock end, prices are very good."

Bitz said farmers are in a very good financial position, because of the current prices, and also because of disaster payments, crop insurance and COVID relief. And he said his bank hasn't been making loans to farmers this year.

"I can tell you that right now, of operating loans at our bank, there have been some that haven't been touched," Bitz said. "The farmers haven't needed it."

Bitz said he has seen a lot of pay-down on existing loans.

"It's actually a great time to be farming," Bitz said.

The independent bankers' group had their annual meeting in Bismarck this week.

ICBND Distinguished Banker Award

2021-2022

Stephen L. Stenehjelm, Chairman and CEO of First International Bank & Trust (FIBT), is the recipient of the 2022 Distinguished Community Banker Award. The award was presented to him during the 54th Annual Independent Community Banks of North Dakota (ICBND) Convention & Exposition. The three-day event was held August 8-10, at the Bismarck Hotel and Conference Center, in Bismarck, and was attended by over 200 bank and associate members.

The Distinguished Community Banker Award was created in 1998 by the ICBND Board of Directors to recognize the efforts of its most outstanding members and is the most prestigious award given by ICBND. This award, which need not be given every year, honors an active or former community banker for exemplary and outstanding service to community banking over an extended career. Stephen's father Leland M. Stenehjelm posthumously received the award in 2017, making Stephen the second Stenehjelm to be honored with the ICBND Distinguished Community Banker Award.

Stenehjelm, who recently celebrated 40 years with First International Bank & Trust, looks back on his achievements with pride. "FIBT is over 100x larger than when I started and that's a testament to the amazing team we've built over the years. From our humble beginnings in Arnegard, ND, we now have 34 locations across four states and can serve more customers than ever before. Thank you to everyone who has been part of FIBT's success. I am truly humbled and honored to receive this award."
